

My husband and I plead with you not to dilute the do-not-call law. The telemarketing calls are extremely interruptive and annoying and we have immensely enjoyed the relief from them. We do not purchase anything in response to telemarketing!